DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(m).

Lack of appropriate surface shading in the drawing as filed may render the design nonenabling under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Additionally, if the surface shape is not evident from the disclosure as filed, the addition of surface shading after filing may comprise new matter

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-33 rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,487,106. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the following reasons:

Re claims 1-33, the claimed subject matter of the instant application also claimed in claims 1-20 of the U.S. Patent 6,487,106 including a microelectronic programmable structure comprising: an ion conductor formed of a solid solution containing a first conductive substance (i.e., an electrolyte and conductive material); a first electrode comprising a second conductive substance, wherein said first and said second conductive substances comprise the same material; a second electrode; and an insulating layer, wherein at least one of said first electrode and said second electrode is formed at least partially within the insulating layer (i.e., at least one of the ion conductor, oxidizable electrode, and indifferent electrode is formed within at least a portion of the via).

Therefore, the claims are not patentably distinct from each other.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure Moore et al. (US/6,818,481) also disclose similar inventive subject matter.
